

News: Paper, Film and Digital
A CRL Global Resources Collection Development Workshop

November 5, 2008
9:00 AM to 4:00 PM

This one-day workshop will combine presentations, reports and free-form discussion. The workshop's purpose is to inform CRL's preservation and collection development agenda and support decision-making and investment by individual research libraries.

Agenda:

Welcome: Workshop Format and Goals

Case Studies: New Research Uses of Traditional News Content.

How scholars in the CRL community are mining newspaper back files and electronic news sources for teaching and research. Mary Wilke, CRL.

Question for Attendees: What other new uses of traditional news collections are librarians seeing?

Discussion: Investing in Electronic Newspaper Collections -- Considering the User.

How real researcher needs are served– or not – by digital libraries like Chronicling America and electronic aggregations like Factiva, America's Historical Newspapers, and LexisNexis Academic. Patrick Reakes, Associate University Librarian and Head, Neuharth Library, University of Florida.

Question for Attendees: What electronic news collections, and what aspects of those collections, merit further evaluation and analysis?

Report: A Look at Some Recent Electronic News Collections.

Reviews of the Foreign Broadcast Information Service Daily Reports, 1974-1996 (Readex); Latin American Newsstand (ProQuest); and Google's News Archive Search. Bernard Reilly, CRL.

12:00 – 1:00 PM      Lunch Break

Report: The Role of Research Libraries in the Electronic News Environment.

A report from "On the Record: A Global Resources Forum on News Preservation and the Electronic Media." James Simon and Bernard Reilly, CRL

Discussion: Preservation Microfilming in the Digital Age.

A report on three of the major foreign newspaper preservation programs: the Library of Congress overseas operations, the International Coalition on Newspapers, and CRL Area Microform Projects. James Simon, CRL. Question for Attendees: How rapidly are users' attitudes toward, and tolerance of, microform changing?

Report: The Newspaper Digitization Landscape: A Survey.

An update on the various library efforts, national, international and local, to digitize newspaper back files: The British Library and Cengage Gale's Nineteenth Century British Library Newspapers; NEH's National Digital Newspaper Project; others. James Simon, CRL.

Discussion: The World Newspaper Archive: Goals, Methodology, and Economics.

How the CRL-NewsBank collaboration to digitize and deliver newspapers from the major world regions developed and where it is going. Bernard Reilly, CRL.
